

Why is the C
Name another news intelligence ag
"reporters

THE SI CAME IN NEW

BY JOE TRENT

A year-long Penthouse incan newspaper chain intelligence arms of th
Federal Bureau of Inve

The Penthouse inquiry establi cludes the San Diego Union and subsidiary, the Copley News Se

- Provided credentials, informa and the FBI.

- Exchanged intelligence info planted CIA and FBI stories and

- Harbored CIA operatives on and fed stories to news-service (

FBI.
Furthermore, Penthouse learn was a financial failure) was insp Eisenhower and the late James S.
Copley Press) for the purpose o

Meetings and phone calls bel lined in still-secret documents, These documents confirm:

- That Copley volunteered his r and ears" against "the Communis
"our intelligence services."

- That Eisenhower told Copley country and will be reciprocate

- At subsequent meetings oth Service provide credentials for C "cover for our operatives."

Those meetings and phone call and his privately held empire an death in 1973.

According to retired intellige ("Andy") Anderson, the czar of drew on his background in nav intelligence effort during the early ley executives, refused to be interviewed for this article. He is now retired.

"The hiring of military people to run his newspapers and his news service was something that Jim inherited from his father," Lyle Erb, the former corporation secretary for Copley Press, told Penthouse. Copley's father, Col. Ira Copley, had requisitioned OSS officer Robert Richards to run his Washington bureau before the end of World War II. And Gen. Victor ("Brute") Krulak, onetime head of liaison between the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the intelligence services, succeeded Captain Anderson as editorial director of Copley Press in 1968. Krulak (who retired from Copley in June) was described by members of the Forty Committee, which oversees the U.S. intelligence apparatus, "as the expert in anti-Castro guerrilla activities in the early 1960s for the Kennedys."

Sources indicate that while there had been intelligence cooperation between Copley and the CIA prior to the 1953 Eisenhower meetings, it was not organized until CNS was founded. Penthouse learned from very well placed CIA sources that no less than twenty-three Copley News Service employees were out of the 194 U.S.

MORI/CDE